

Crops That Convince

We will convince you that you can "increase your yields per acre" and you won't have to keep it a secret, either. Read what Messrs. Wherry & Son, of the Magnolia Fruit Farm, Durant, Miss., write: "From two acres of strawberries on which 1,000 pounds of per acre were used, we cleared a profit of $75.00 per acre more than the other 14% acres of strawberries which had only 500 pounds of this fertilizer." Thus double the quantity of these fertilizers on each acre of any crop, and more than double the "increase your yields per acre." Be sure you buy only Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers.

Card of Thanks.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Please allow me a short space in your columns to return thanks to my many friends and neighbors who have so willingly assisted me and my family in our affliction. My illness now has been for several years and for the last thirteen months I have been confined to my room and the greater portion of this time I have been helpless. My friends and neighbors came from far and near and administered to my sufferings and lent their aid in every possible way to myself and family.

My dear friends I trust all to God and may I yet be spared to meet you in health and return to you from the bottom of my heart thanks for what you have so willingly done for me. I have not now words to express to you my appreciation of your kindness to me and family. My prayers shall ever be that God, the Father of mercies, will reward you for the services you have rendered to one of His helpless creatures.

Race for Life.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 15—One hundred men harvesting ice on Saginaw Bay with a dozen horses were driven ashore in a veritable panic late today, when a sudden northeaster swept down upon them, breaking the ice field loose from shore. Men and horses raced madly for their lives, all safely reaching land, however, before the breach between the ice field and the shore ice became impassable. The ice field was quickly driven against the west shore with terrific force, crushing and grinding the shore ice and piling up ice barriers ten to twenty feet high. The northeaster was accompanied by a blinding snowstorm.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Female Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous?

How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in woman is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman.

Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability; spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps; pain in the abdominal region and between the shoulders; loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia; a tendency to cry at the least provocation—all these point to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night."

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me. 'I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger.'"

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick, weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

Never let a man when he is down—unless all his friends are down.
